BASSANO NEWS

The May meeting of the Service Boys Benefit Club was held at the home of Mrs. J. Maguire. Letters from a number of our boys overseas were read. Plans were made for our dance May 5, and our shipment overseas of cigarettes and chocolates to be sent away in May.

Mother's Day was fittingly observed at the Knox Presbyterian Church on Sunday last, when a special Program was followed in the Sunday School, at which over one hundred children and mothers were present. Rev. E. H. Lockhart was in charge and gave an appropriate address on the Christian Home. The Senior Girls Chorus led the singing under the direction of Mr. J. Toogood, and rendered special selections in keeping with the occasion. The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly of Crowfoot was baptized.

In the afternoon Rev. E. H. Lockhart journeyed to Gem with Mr. J. Brown, and held a special Mothers' Day service in the Community Hall. This was enjoyed by those present. At the evening service Mrs. W. Flanagan sang a solo and the Girls Choir an Anthem.

A raffish was held and Mrs. MacBeth was the lucky winner. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess. A very pleasant afternoon being spent by all.

A special meeting is called for Wednesday May 17th at the home of the President Mrs. Rockwell.

Mrs. Geo. Malmgren visited the friends in Banff during the week-end.

Mrs. R. Brent spent the week-end in Edmonton visiting her husband who is being transferred to Sask. with the R.C.A.F.

Mary Walsh (BCAF) W.D. is at home on embarkation leave.

Mrs. A. Pelley, Miss F. Oat, Miss J. Bowlin, Miss Ired, Lindsay and Miss G. Eviatt spent the week-end in Banff, Alta.

Old Wally Phipps, Ted Redmond and Bob McLean spent the week-end at the home.

The late Bassano C.G.I.T. group held a Mother and Daughter banquet in the L.O.O.F. Hall on Wed. evening, May 16th. Approximately seventy girls and mothers attended. The programme, interspersed with C.G.I.T. songs, included toasts to the King, the Church, the Mothers and the daughters, following which the guest speaker, Mrs. Sybil Borgall spoke very effectively on the C.G.I.T. purpose. Those taking part in the programme were Eleanor Bohne as toastmistress, Jackie Edwards, Lorraine Meidinger, Mrs. Lockhart, Vi Orr Harris, Mrs. McBeth, Mrs. Miller, Florence Meidinger, Marilyn Miller, Thelma assisting in serving included Margaret Clynne, Eleanor Jorvick, and Elsie Greenwood.

WE WILL NEED 500 SOCIAL WORKERS

Philip S. Fisher of Montreal, president of the Canadian Welfare Council, in an interview here Monday said that Canada faces a shortage of more than 500 social workers in the post-war period.

"Canadians as yet, haven't realized the need for social workers," he said. "Salaries are low and social work as a career hasn't been sufficiently publicized. Unless the situation is remedied, the shortage will become even more active than at present."

Mr. Fisher is attending the 24th annual meeting of the Canadian Welfare Council which opened here today in conjunction with the ninth biennial Canadian conference on social work.

The conference will officially open with a dinner meeting to night with delegates from Halifax to Victoria in attendance.

FIRST NEW TYPE ENGINE DELIVERED

The first locomotive to be built by the Angus shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company here since 1931, Engine No. 1200 came off the shop's trail tracks here today.

An entirely new class, designed for that part of the Co. program for post-war power replacement dealing with more than 800 of the older locomotives. No. 1200 was taken over by W.M. Neal, C.M.E., the vice-president, from H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock.

Some Things Never Change

The world changes, but human nature is the same in every age. So is sin. All the forms of sin which prevailed 1000 years ago are prevalent today. Paul spoke of "adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness, idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like." Sin is one thing that never changes. Another thing that never changes is the remedy. Now, as then the only solution to the problems of mankind is Christ. He alone can deliver men from sin in all its forms.

ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE...

MAKE YOUR DOLLARS FIGHT!

It has taken us four years to build up our war production to the point where we can trade the enemy blow for blow. During that precious time, many of Canada's sons gave their lives.

For four long years we worked and bled our time, knowing that when we had gathered our strength their debt would be paid and repaid.

Their sacrifice must not be in vain. Your purchases of War Savings Certificates and Stamps will do it. Make your dollars fight and "Speed the Victory!"

WHY DON'T THEY OPEN THE DOOR

Reuben and Esther Jones were as devoted to each other, their home, and only child who, their husband happiness into their lives, as man and wife could be.

They had not much sympathy with religious folk, or churches. Sundays were "rest days" with the newspaper as their "guide philosopher, and friend." They had, however, allowed the district visitor to call which she did monthly and on the day of which I write she had brought the New Sheet Almanac, the central picture being a reproduction of Holman Hunt's famous painting "Christ the Light of the World." Mother and son looked at it with wonder as it was placed in a prominent position on the wall.

On the father coming into dinner, his attention was called to it by the lady. "Look daddy. Who is it, daddy? Who is it?" Reuben looked at the picture, but gave no answer although he knew when the picture represented.

But the little fellow was not to be denied, and again came the same question "Who is it, daddy? Tell me daddy."

At last he blurted out: "A man of course!"

"What Man, daddy? What is his name?"

Compelled by the earnestness of the child, he said "Christ."

"That was He doing daddy?"
"Can you see He is knocking at a door?" said the father. "How long will He knock daddy?" "I don't know," came the reply. Still the boy asked, "What is He knocking for?" "Because He wants to go inside," said his father. "Why don't they open the door, daddy?"

This question was repeatedly asked.

ed, and it proved to be too pointed for Reuben Jones turned away saying "I don't know my child."

Very little was said that dinner hour except the boy's repeated statement: "T'd open the door. Wouldn't you daddy?"

Dinner over, the father hurried away saying to his wife: "I cannot stand any more of his questions."

That evening, Reuben Jones and his wife chatted about their son, the picture and the child's questions. "Oh!" said the wife, "he's been going on about it ever since; his last words when going to bed were 'I wish they had let him in.'"

"It is very strange," said the husband. "I have thought of little else since dinner. I cannot get it out of my mind. 'Why don't they open the door?' Why don't they open the door?" Esther, I believe the same hand has been knocking at my door for some time, but the knocking has been louder today. But still the door is closed.

"Why don't they open the door?" he said. Ah! that is the question.

"I am sure, Esther, God is knocking by the hand of our own child. It's time we began to be more serious about things."

"Well," said the wife "if I am to go to accept Christ I shall too."

That very week a meeting was being held in the Gospel Hall. Reuben's workshop mates had held up this effort to scorn, asking "Who's going to get saved?" But notwithstanding this spirit of derision, Reuben and Esther attended three meetings, till on the closing night the preacher asked, "Who will open the door, and let the Saviour in?"

It brought back to husband and wife the question of their own child. "Why don't they open the door?"

The preacher cried: "Behold, now is the accepted time. Behold, now is the day of salvation!"

"Admit Him, for the human breast Ne'er entertained so kind a guest. No mortal tongue their joy can tell With whom He condescends to dwell."

That was enough; husband and wife decided that He who had been a stranger should henceforth be trusted as Saviour and Friend.

For more than ten years He has been in them "The Light of the World."

That sheet almanac became valued as a treasure, for they never tired recounting the way they had been led.

Do you know where Christ is in your life? Is He inside, or outside. He said, "Behold I stand at the door and knock; if any man hear My voice, and open the door I will come in and sit with him and he will be with Me."

Have you opened the door? Have you room for Jesus, — Who bore your load of sin; — As He knocks and asks admission, — Minner will you let Him in? Room for Jesus, King of glory Hasten now. His word obey, — Swing the heart's door widely open, — Bid Him enter while you may.

NO LIQUOR ADS

Over two and a quarter million subscribers to the Saturday Evening Post voted against liquor advertising in that paper.

SELF-EXPRESSION

The other week 68 out of 90 high school students in East Stanswood Wash, went on strike because they "want higher grades, less work and better treatment, the superintendent said. As an example of what he meant, he related that "three of the boys were late for school. They were asked to remain after school and were scolded." The real grievance however is that these young revolutionaries want to make the high school classes completely public; therefore 80 of them met in a service station and signed a pledge not to return to school.

Modern educators teach self-expression. They need not be surprised that the students express themselves! What they should be taught is that self-control and not self-expression is the pathway to true happiness.

Postwar Planning

One denomination is planning to "send a corps of flying missionaries after the war to conduct a 'mass bombing' of all the large cities of the world with religious literature." These flyers will go from one populated area to another dropping religious tracts from the sky.

The number of languages in which some part of the scriptures has been published is now 1,002, announces the American Bible Society. Four new languages appeared in 1943-one spoken in Ethiopia, two in Gabon, French, Equatorial Africa and one in northern Australia. Homer has been translated into 36 languages. Shakespeare into 40 but the Bible into more than any other book.

THIRTY MILES FROM VICTORY

At least three times the Nazis have been within thirty miles of what might have been decisive blows in this war. They were within thirty miles from the shores of England thirty miles from the city of Moscow; and thirty miles from Cairo. Thirty miles less than an hour's drive by rail. But God had set "the bounds of their habitation." Acts 17:36. He let them go thus far, but no farther!

Prenatal Murders

The editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association estimates that a million babies in the U.S. are being killed each year by criminal abortion, or one fourth as many as are born annually in this country.

I looked under the column. Waiters wanted? I applied, answered that I had "waited" in a first-class restaurant in France, and was accepted, but did not have the required outfit, such as a black waiter's coat, white apron, etc. and so had to be content as "Piccolo", which means a sort of assistant to the head waiter. As such I was to receive five dollars a week, and one third of the tips given to the waiter whom I assisted.

Carefully, I watched the movements and deportment of the waiters as they carried the large trays, laden with ever so many dishes, cups and balanced on finger ends. I noticed that a napkin was carefully hung down the left arm and the graceful waiting and the delicate steps they used which made me think of dancers floating over the polished dance-floor.

"Ah," I said, "if once I can do this it will be an easy matter for me to become a fulfilled waiter and earn three or four dollars a day in tips."

Just then, all I had to do was to pick up the dishes after the meal and carry them off to the kitchen, where the dishwasher was waiting for them.

I well remembered the first time I saw that dishwasher. How superior I felt! I was ahead of one man already, and soon, I realized I would be a top-notchier a real waiter and in such a position indispensable.

The chance came sooner than I thought.

Three days after I started as assistant, one of the waiters failed to show up. I was asked to take his place temporarily. I did. Here was my chance then, to emulate the gracefulness of the waiters and to show off. Secretly, I practiced bal-

THE COST OF KILLING

The last was cost the United States roughly about $30,000,000,000.00. To win the present war the President outlined obligations from 1940 through June 30, 1945 amounting to $397,000,000,000.00 (of which $10,000,000,000.00 would be expended, representing contracts uncompleted at that date. This leaves a cost of $287,000,000,000 which is equal to $2,800 for every man, woman and child in this country.

PAGANISM IN AMERICA

A statue of Buddha is being brought from Peking, China to be placed in a beautiful setting over Avey Island, Louisiana. After being the center of worship for the Chinese Buddhists for hundreds of years, it is to provide a perfect setting for the worship of American Buddhists!

A PRODIGAL LAND

The United States spends $2,000,000 daily on liquor. The four billion pounds of grain and the 165,000,000 gallons of molasses used every year, by the way, are usually sold at a loss. It would provide $4,000,000,000.00 if people with an extra loaf of bread daily and a quart of milk, if the products were used for bread or for cows. This is a prodigious land, with its abundance in riotous living. It needs to return to our heavenly Father.

such a tray in his hand and looked very efficient and correct. His face was lifted up, way up as he carried the tray to the waiting guests. And that's the way I did it. I would do it the same way, efficient way, or not at all.

And I surely did. My new way up and down stairs, I am sure, noticed that the line of people waiting from under the table on which I was to place my tray, had some-thing to decide to greet me and to meet. My first attempt on the very corner where it happened not to be taken down, and I did not have to unload my trays. They poured down and that not only on the floor but on the table, and it splashed all over the clothes and faces of the terrified guests.

And again I was out of a job. And so it went on and on. One job after another, one experience after another. I soon ran out of the restaurant jobs and tackled other professions and trades. Among all these jobs and positions I attempted, there was, only one which, quit of my own accord and that one I already mentioned.

CHAPTER 2

Meanwhile, I learned a little of American psychology. I acquainted myself with the spirit of Americanism, the tolerance, the god-fearers of those who lived and ruled here over the fate of immigrants. And I liked it all.

But this book is not written to merely describe the hundred and one experiences of an immigrant boy.

Therefore, I will let down one more job I had, which, for the first time since I left home, I had occasion to hear the name of Jesus mentioned.

I was a photographer, a sorter of clothing, a butcher, painter and pocket book maker, sweater manufacturer, coal and ice carrier, newspaper vendor, and tried many other things until I got tired of them all, and decided to look for something that was extraordinary; something different; something that would thrill me.

Sitting on one of the benches in a park near Avenue A, I picked up one of the newspapers which were circulating among many others who were occupying these benches, and quickly glanced over the alphabetically arranged professions and jobs that were offered. I came to one under the letter P. Somebody in Second Avenue wanted a Porter.

ANSWERS for Victory Gardeners be careful that in gathering stray seed stalks you do not broadcast weed seeds.

What Insects Are Most Harmful to the Garden?

Any insect seen in the garden should be looked upon as an enemy till proven otherwise. Some are more harmful than others. All insects are harmful that eat leaves, flowers or tender shoots. Likewise they are harmful if they suck sap from the tissues. The plant needs no support for support of insects. In various sections of the country various pests are found. Some insects such as aphids are almost universal, however, and are found on almost all types of vegetation. Watch for the little green plant lice (aphids) and attack them at once when they appear. They are harmless but can do great damage if allowed to multiply.

What Harm Do Weeds Do In the Garden?

Weeds are thieves. They steal the moisture and plant food from your crop. The soil is a reservoir from which the garden plants draw their sustenance. Every weed that runs its roots into that reservoir draws away the things your crop needs for good growth. Few soils are so rich that a crop of weeds and a crop of garden vegetables at the same time.

How Can I Prevent a Growth of Weeds in the Garden?

Weeds grow from seeds. If weeds seed days year by year so that no seed falls your weed problem is partly solved although there always seems to be some coming up no matter how you fight. The weeds in the main are not by cultivation and by hoeing. Weeds should be destroyed as they come up before they have time to establish a seed where they do damage by their roots. Hoeing your garden trash helps to destroy both the seeds and insects. However, many weeds drop their seeds as soon as they ripen and you have to

How Should Insects Be Combated?

As soon as the plants get large enough to set as a harbor for insects they should be sprayed. For sucking insects use Black Leaf later in these directions will be given on these columns as to how to use these products which are very simple to handle and will do a splendid clean up job.

The price to be paid by the British Ministry during the period of the agreement is 20 cents per lb. at factory shipping point. In addition to this price the Dominion Gov't is now paying a bonus of 20 cents per 100lb. for milk used in the manufacture of cheddar cheese and also a 10-cent premium on cheese scoring 94 or more points and one cent per lb. on 93 score. Extra Farm Help Get Extra Rations
Anguists have been made by the WPTD to provide this year extra rations of food for extra farm help engaged seasonally in all parts of Canada on the basis of a limit of five meals per person per day.

Keep Milk Record
A system of keeping milking records is important to dairy farmers and is one of the first steps in building up a herd. Milking records constitute a guide for the feeding of each cow according to the quantity of milk she produces, and are the bases on which a herd can be improved.
